

GALLI PRODUCE CO. INC.

1 2 / 2 7 / 2 0 2 1

Looking for positives to take from 2021 will require some inner prospective. Just the fact we have made it through so far could be enough.

Many challenges still persist in our supply chain and labor markets. Hope is never a good strategy, but we still can while making a plan of attack!

Avocados;

Seems to be plenty of product however labor issues and shipping costs persist causing a steady increase.

Citrus ;

Good supplies on all citrus, Navel Oranges, Satsuma Mandarins, Cara Cara, Blood Oranges, Meyer Lemons and Grapefruit.

APPLES & PEARS

Ready for the new year to start.

Honey Crisp, Fuji's and Gala's. Envy and Pink Ladies are in stock ready to go.

Organic Gala, Granny Smith, Fuji and Pears in 100 count boxes are in stock

BERRIES

Strawberries are in a demand exceeds supply at this time. All recent weather related.

Blueberries, Raspberries and Blackberries out of middle Mexico are all in good shape and moderately priced

Seasonals

The last stonefruit to hang in there are Plums and they are now finished.

California

Kiwi, Pomegranates Fuyu Persimmons are finished

Grapes

The last of the domestic have moved through, some quality issues have shown up in storage fruit. Offshore products arriving this week.

Tomatoes Etc.

Melons;

Del Monte is ready to ship this week with offshore Cantaloupes, Honeydews and Pineapples. I have my order in, less deliveries from previous years means keeping more on hand.

Tomatoes~

It is looking like growing regions will have a smooth transition. We have seen excellent color and firmness from Baja. Now it's time for Central Mexico to kick in.

Eggs and Dairy:

A real production void these past couple of weeks. Prices are moving up. We are seeing proration's on Butter and cream products.

We will see Celery and Green Onions soar in price for a few weeks.

Asparagus

Look for prices reductions as holiday demand drops off.

Green Beans-

So so quality so far out of Mexico.

Broccolini~

Steady, good quality.

Celery .

Too much rain, we will see expensive celery

Snap and Snow

Peas Prices are still on the high side.

English& Persian Cucumbers

Steady with Persians inching up.

Squashes~Eggplants ~ Bell Peppers and Chiles.

All Mexican product at this time.

Mushrooms; Challenges with imported Mushrooms continue. Domestic product has labor and transportation issues causing product to be prorated.

BROCCOLI~CAULIFLOWERS~CORN

Broccoli ~

Light supplies as weather cools in Salinas and Santa Maria Ca. Heavy rains in Mexico has stunted the start creating a gap.

Cauliflowers~

This market will follow Broccoli

Brussels Sprouts Stay away! Prices are crazy.

CORN:

Still seeing some Coachella yellow corn, sizing is small and quality is not so great. Mexico will be the next stop.

LETTUCE ~ ROMAINE~SOFT LEAF

Iceberg, Romaine, Romaine Hearts, and Green Leaf steady and falling in price. A few frost issues in Yuma will result in some outer burn.

Overall good weights and quality will be steadily improving in the coming weeks.

Radicchio Spring Mix, Arcadian Mix, Baby Kales and Baby Mizuna, Braising Greens, Micro Greens Good ways to save $$

Not much has changed.

The supply Chain over all is still suffering critical infrastructure issues.

All categories of product remains affected .

Anything from China, Taiwan and all ports in between are still short on people and trucks.

A few new items for you to consider.
